

Meriam Park

Chico, California

Welcome to the Meriam Park project in Chico, California, a mixed-use traditional neighborhood. The plan for Meriam Park comes from the tradition of great American neighborhoods. It has been designed with a range of housing types, sizes and prices, a mix of civic and commercial uses, and a network of connected slow-speed streets. We believe that neighborhoods designed and built in this way create the best places over the long term.

This website provides information on the overall Meriam Park plan, as well as our planning process, the review process with the City of Chico, the environmental review process, and a questions/comments section. We will update this site often over the next several weeks and months, so please take a look around, and then check back from time to time to see what's new. We thank you for your interest in Meriam Park!
